Giving Back Is At The Core Of Giving Tree Realty.

As our name implies, service is the cornerstone of Giving Tree Realty. The concept of giving back to the community is fundamental in our Broker-Associates' ability to achieve their goals. Service enriches our firm and engages our broker associates with the lives and activities of so many wonderful people and charitable organizations.

In addition, our community service commitment enables you to work alongside others and build lasting relationships with individuals who share your passion for a life of good works. As a Giving Tree Realty Broker-Associate, you select a charity of your choice which embraces your passion and becomes the foundation of your charity platform. Then, Giving Tree Realty donates a percentage of every transaction on your behalf to your chosen charity. We believe that, ultimately, it's not who we are as real estate professionals that most enhances our lives – it's what we do for our charities and our communities.

Together, we work to create a culture of giving back that makes a difference far beyond our own offices and the real estate industry.
